MISSION STATEMENT

25X1 The Office of General Administration manages the MG Career Service which provides direct administrative support to domestic and foreign field installations. The Agency's MG officers manage the human and material resources of their individual components, including such functions as budget, personnel, security, logistics, training, and information. These officers, who serve in all Agency Directorates, spend about one-third of their careers overseas. Slightly over one-half (51%) of the Agency's MG careerists are presently in overseas or domestic field assignments.
